OUR IMPACT:
Since 1944, Heifer has helped more than 20.7 million families, in more than 125 countries. “Heifer International’s work is an example of best practices in development. They bring generations together with community building, and help families build knowledge and resources for sustainable progress out of poverty.” — Ford Foundation

RAISING AWARENESS:
More than 70,000 people a year visit Heifer’s learning centers in Rutland, Massachusetts, and in Perryville and Little Rock, Arkansas. They participate in seminars, service-learning projects and in-depth learning experiences. Heifer also provides educational resources for teachers and faith communities so our message can be passed on to future generations.

A RECOGNIZED LEADER:
Heifer has received numerous awards and recognition for our work, including the Conrad N. Hilton Humanitarian Prize, the world’s largest humanitarian award. Former President Jimmy Carter said Heifer “has inspired hope in hungry communities, where the gift of one animal can bring health, prosperity and peace.” Former President Ronald Reagan also awarded Heifer the 1986 President’s Award for Voluntary Action, and former President George H.W. Bush awarded the Presidential End Hunger Award to Heifer in 1990. Heifer was also named the third most-trusted nonprofit organization in the 2012 Equitrend® Harris Poll.
